

Internship assignment Fitsurance - graphic design

Fitsurance: The starting point for a vital life

Fitsurance uses data and smart measurements for sports and lifestyle goals. With the help of scientifically based and easy-to-perform health checks, people quickly gain insight into their health, fitness and resilience. You can come by for a measurement, we come to groups larger than 10 or we send a kit with which you can easily measure at home. The Fitsurance team analyzes the test results and translates them into practical nutrition and exercise advice, tailored to your personal situation, wishes and goals. To support this, Fitsurance also organizes webinars on health, exercise and sports.

Start up with growth prospects

Fitsurance is a start-up that originated from the VU – human movement sciences. We now have several partnerships and parties/persons who purchase our services. The aim is to optimize our services and to grow further in the coming period. We focus on different market segments.

More information about Fitsurance, the services and the target groups can be found at:
